Inspiring Jewish Life for Families with Young Children

RESOURCE

PJ LIBRARY HOUSTON HELPS FAMILIES with young children build meaningful Jewish connections through stories, shared experiences, and community. Families with children ages 0-12 years old receive free, high-quality Jewish books each month, along with access to engaging family programs, holiday celebrations, neighborhood playgroups, and parenting resources.

PJ Library Connectors located in Katy, The Heights, North Houston, and Sugar Land, create meaningful, close-knit communities with families from all backgrounds and levels of Jewish engagement. PJ Library inspires joyful Jewish living, strengthens family connections, and helps parents build lasting friendships and community while creating meaningful Jewish memories together.

IT GIVES ME SO MUCH JOY to see my child playing with other Jewish kids. I can't tell you how much it means to connect with other Jewish parents and have opportunities to meet other Jewish families in our area. We are so grateful that PJ Library provides a way for us to meet one another." — Liza Hirsch
